

Who We Are & Why We're Hiring

Phoenix Community Farm has been helping our community meet the basic need for fresh, healthy produce for six years. Not only do we grow and share produce, we also work to educate and empower our community to Grow Healthy Together through a variety of hands-on preparing, preserving and eating classes.

This is a growing season position (approximately April 1 thru Oct 30) with part-time hours. Hours may vary between 10 and 20 hrs/week.

This role will be a key part of our farm operations with a strong focus on garden preparation and harvesting activities. We would be excited to train and educate a motivated candidate.

Compensation of $12/hour

Responsibilities

As the Farm Operation Intern, your tasks will vary greatly and you will gain experience with the following:

- Seed starting and transplanting
- Vegetable bed preparation
- Cultivation and weeding
- Crop management and harvesting
- Volunteer training and coaching

Qualifications

Phoenix Community Farm is ideally looking for someone who has an interest in small scale production farming as well as someone who is motivated by our mission.

In addition, the Intern should have:

- Previous farm experience and enjoys working outside in a physical capacity
- Strong attention to detail, follow directions and think critically
- Focused on assigned task until completed
- Willingness to collaborate and communicate effectively with Farm Manager and Executive Director
- Available for evenings and occasional weekend opportunities

TO APPLY: Simply fill out our internship application below and send a copy of your resume along with references to phoenixcommunityfarm@gmail.com.
